

Jakob Alexander Eilinghoff

Potsdamer Str. 102, 10785 Berlin

+4915754102179

jeilinghoff@googlemail.com

Computer Science student and aspiring Fullstack developer with a passion for combining analytical and creative thinking and acting. Trained in the development of web applications.

During my studies, I discovered the world of programming. To rapidly acquire relevant skills in this field, I completed a full-time coding bootcamp from May to August 2023. My background in general and comparative literature equips me with the ability to grasp complex concepts and apply them creatively in my development work. Since last October, I have also been studying computer science through distance learning at IU International University. My goal is to work in an innovative company on digital solutions.

Skills:

Programming: HTML, CSS, Java, Javascript, Node.js, React, Next.js, Express, Typescript, Tailwind, MongoDB, Prisma, Git, und more

Other Skills: Github, Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign, XD), Microsoft Office Suite, Figma, Trello, Notion, Unreal Engine, Ableton

Education:

October 2023 - Present B.Sc. Computer Science,
IU Internationale Hochschule

May 2023 - August 2023 Full-Stack Software Engineering Bootcamp
Spiced Academy, Berlin
Programming various full-stack web applications
Final project: Creation of a social media app, blog app, and text-sharing app
Github-Profile: github.com/jakob-alexander2000

October 2020 - April 2023 B.A. General and Comparative Literature & English Philology, Freie Universität, Berlin

June 2016 High School Diploma at Mendelssohn-Bartholdy Gymnasium, Berlin

Work Experience:

January 2023 - Present	Art Mediator at Sammlung Boros, Berlin 90-minute guided tours for visitor groups from around the world on the building and the artworks contained in the historical air-raid shelter near Friedrichstrasse in Berlin
November 2017 - Present	Team member of renowned performance artist Anne Imhof as a performer, author, musician, and research assistant. Team member of renowned performance artist Anne Imhof as a performer, author, musician, and research assistant. Participation in group performances at the Biennale in Venice (2017), Tate Modern in London (2019), as well as in Chicago (2019), Berlin (2019), Turin (2019), Paris (2021), and Los Angeles (2023)
May 2018 - October 2019	Work at the fashion label Celine, Paris Fittings, research assistance for designer Hedi Slimane
May 2017 - June 2023	Model at Agentur Tomorrow is Another Day agency, Cologne
Languages:	German: Native, English: fluent, French: proficient, Polish: fluent